

A SPECIAL VIEWING OF HIDDEN FIGURES

Actress and TV personality, Marcia Brown, came with her beautiful family as a special guest.

Kwesi Johnson and Stacey Ann Berry successfully organized and hosted a private viewing of motion picture "Hidden Figures," a movie that tells the incredible story of three brilliant African American women, Katherine G. Johnson, Dorothy Vaughan and Mary Jackson's, contribution to the launching of astronaut John Glenn into space. This special event started with a hearty breakfast filling the participants with good foods and ended with filling them up with inspiration from a panel of women leaders giving words of wisdom. The icing on the cake came from the dynamic husband and wife team, Pinball and Dianne Clemons; giving a powerful motivational speech.

Event by Janise Smith
Website code: pew3558

Facilitator, Stacey Berry, expressing how the movie made her feel.

Kwesi Johnson and Diane Clemons

"Take the initiative and believe in yourself!"
Rachael Saunders, Engineer

Vidal Chavannes enjoying the private view with his son

Diane and Pinball Clemons, always fill a room with positive energy

"When someone does not see you don't get angry. But make it your effort to make sure they see you" Tanya Walker, Lawyer and 1st elected African Canadian to become a Bencher in the Law Society of Upper Canada'

Panelist of Women Leader, Dr. Yemisi Bolaji, Stacey Berry, Founder and CEO, , Tanya Walker, Lawyer and Aisha Addo Innovator and Founder of Power to Girls

"Please understand you can always be the best you. Persevere and never give up."Diane Clemons, Co-Founder, Pinballfoundation

"Don't be afraid to make a mistake. Step out of your comfort zone."

